Dear Jeff:

It is my honor to write today and thank you for your gift to the Crop Science Extension Enhancement Fund in support of Dr. Robert Richardson's research. Donors like your organization are making a difference in every aspect of our work -- providing opportunities for students and faculty, creating endowments and funds that propel our academic, research and Extension efforts forward, and giving us flexibility to pivot in response to emerging issues and challenges.

My humble message of gratitude is sent on behalf of all those in the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences who benefit from contributions like yours. You enable our continued success in helping citizens, businesses and communities across North Carolina through education and outreach. We take our land-grant mission seriously, and thank you for helping us fulfil it each and every day.

You inspire us to Think and Do the Extraordinary, for the people of North Carolina and beyond. YOU are extraordinary!

I send my best wishes for your continued health and safety.

With appreciation and warmest regards,

Chris Cammarene-Wessel
